SOLIDARITY WITH UNIVERSITY WORKERS

SEIU 503

SEIU MEMBERS VOTED 97% TO AUTHORIZE A STRIKE STARTING SEPTEMBER 28TH.

WHO ARE WE?

We are the workers who keep our universities running. We support students. We prepare food. We maintain buildings and technology. We keep campuses clean and safe. We deserve a contract that allows us to support ourselves and our families. We deserve to live with dignity.

- More than half of us worry about running out of money before our next paycheck.
- 28% of us are going into debt just to cover rent and groceries
- Nearly one in four of us worries we won't have enough food to make it to payday.
- Meanwhile, presidents of Oregon public universities are making nearly $1 million a year.

WE SUPPORT STUDENTS

"I have less money now than when I started working here. My rent and groceries have gone up so much that I can barely afford food. I work full time, yet I can't afford to save for my future or even eat a healthy diet. I'm exhausted and don't know how much more I can take."

HANNAH LAPONTE
University of Oregon

University administration is offering a contract to classified workers with wages far below the actual cost of living, driving more university workers into poverty and onto state assistance. Tell university presidents: it's time to settle a fair contract with classified workers today!
